

Natalie Cox, an Ottawa-based interior decorator, is fast emerging as one of Ottawa's premier design professionals.

Since joining the award-winning CPI team of Decorating Den Interiors in 2014, Natalie has been honored as one of the international company's top selling Canadian decorators. She has rapidly built an impressive track record as a decorator who specializes in creating homes that flow from room to room. This is a skill that is especially helpful in open concept homes and apartments.

Natalie saves her clients time, money and stress by offering a full range of design services for both new and existing residences. These services include creating custom window treatments, paint consultations and complete room makeovers.

As a Decorating Den representative, she has access to and can supply her clients with beautiful high quality home furnishings. She is known for her customized floor plans, and for helping clients make the most of their space.

"I believe in creating spaces that are beautiful and functional. I create color schemes that flow from room to room and give the home a cohesive look and feel," Natalie explains.

"This approach to decorating ensures there is balance and harmony in the home and gives the owner a relaxing oasis to share with friends and family."

Creating harmony and balance is one of numerous skills that Natalie acquired during her earlier career as a graphic designer. Her design clients today benefit from the attention to detail and the project management, customer service and time management insights she picked up during her 14 year graphic design stint.

DECORATING DEN INTERIORS®

THE CPI TEAM

She presents monthly seminars on topics ranging from the elements of a beautiful living room to decorating small space and has been featured in the blog "Apartment Therapy," the highly-respected home lifestyle resource.

If you would like to be made aware of Natalie's monthly seminars and receive her monthly newsletter containing decorating tips, please contact her and she will gladly add you to her list.

Natalie offers a complimentary consultation, call her today so you can get started on your project!

NATALIE COX

613.599.5564 X.231

natalie.cox@decoratingden.com